Professional CV

Profile

I am an international development professional based in Trinidad and Tobago, with 12 years of experience across FAO and ILO and postgraduate training in development statistics. I combine programme delivery, economics, partnership development and institutional coordination to help organisations turn development priorities into practical action. My approach starts with understanding what prevents implementation, then aligning people, resources and evidence around achievable results.

Career highlights

12 years of UN experience; up to five concurrent projects; US$2.1M managed or mobilised, including US$1.2M secured through proposals led. CV-reported, overlapping figures.

Career timeline

2025–present: MSDT Consulting, Co-founder.
2022–September 2026: ILO Caribbean, Just Transition Officer / National Project Coordinator (from 2024).
2014–2022: FAO Caribbean, Programme Assistant.
2010–2011: SALISES, Project Aide.

Education & tools

MSc Development Statistics, UWI (2023); BSc Economics and Political Science, UWI (2011). Excel, SPSS, Stata, GRMS and IRIS.

Contact

Connect on LinkedIn

Selected responsibilities

Jamaica: programme leadership

Led workplanning, consultant oversight, budget monitoring and steering committee coordination; reprioritised deliverables and prepared closure records.

Regional resource mobilisation

Led proposal drafting, technical input consolidation and budgeting for Barbados and a Jamaica–Grenada–Suriname cluster.

FAO: regional development operations

Supported results frameworks, budget and disbursement tracking, procurement, partner consultations and donor reporting.

SALISES: institutional process design

Designed reporting timelines and workflows for scholarship calls, review and execution.

MSDT: community development

Co-developed training and community interventions, including an eight-session school transition programme and donor outreach concepts.